Let’s Review:

Where Should I Publish?

Web of Science
Search keywords for your topic area, then Analyze by Source Titles to see which journals have published articles on your topic and how frequently.

Journal Citation Reports
Select your categories in JCR to find the most impactful journals in your field.

EndNote Match
Use the Match feature at my.endnote.com to identify potential journals for publication using your title, abstract and references.
- Create an account if you don’t already have one
- Navigate to the Match tab and add your text
- EndNote recommends potential journals and links to the instructions for authors.

Need to see it again? Watch the short video.